

Princeton USG Senate
Meeting 2
February 6th, 2022
8:00 pm EST

Introduction

1. Question and Answer Session (5 minutes)
2. President's Report (Mayu Takeuchi, 5 minutes)

New Business

1. Senate & Committee Confirmations: Hannah Kapoor (5 min)
2. Student Groups Recognition Committee Approvals: Derek Nam (5 min)
3. Budget Approval: Adam Hoffman (15 min)
4. Projects Board, Funding Request: Nelson Dimpter (5 min)
5. Council of the Princeton University Community (CPUC) Overview: Riley Martinez (5 min)
6. Health Survey Review: Austin Davis (10 min)
7. Task Force Review & Approval: Senate (5 min each ~ 25 min)

Consent Agenda

1. Senate & Committee Confirmations
 - a. DEI Committee
 - Kelly Park '25
 - My name is Kelly Park, and I'm from Portland, Oregon. I'm in the class of 2025 and plan to concentrate in public and international affairs, as well as get a certificate in global health and health policy. On campus, I row for the varsity women's lightweight crew team and am on the Princeton Women in Entrepreneurship executive board.
 - Pedro Moranchel '24
 - Hello! My name is Pedro Moranchel. I am a sophomore and a prospective math/physics major with a possible certificate in applications of computing. Currently I am proudly a part of the Princeton Transfer Association, the Council of Science and Technology Student Advisory Board, and SIFP.
 - Rodolfo Pineda '25

- My name is Rodolfo Pineda. I am a first year student in first college. My prospective major is Chemical & Biological Engineering and I'm pursuing certificates in Engineering Biology and Gender & Sexuality Studies. I am an active member of the pride alliance, an auditor for the acts of kindness group, I play in club badminton, I've recently joined SPEAR, and I'm hoping to join an a cappella group this semester.
- Anika Asthana '25
 - Hi everyone! My name is Anika Asthana, and I'm so excited to be on the DEI Committee. I am a freshman studying either Economics or SPIA with the intent of getting a certificate in Gender and Sexuality Studies. On campus, I'm involved with Old NasSoul, Princeton Impact Capital, Prospect Student Ventures, BCC, PSEC, and the blacksmithing and ceramics clubs! I'm really passionate about DEI work and looking forward to this semester!

b. USLC

- Mary Alice Jouve '23
 - My name is Mary Alice, and I'm a junior in the history department. I'm getting certificates in French and medieval studies. On campus, I tutor at the McGraw Center in stats and econ. I also work at a database project in the history department, FLAME, which uses early medieval coins to learn more about the economy of the time period. Otherwise, you can find me at Terrace drinking a big cup of tea and chilling with some friends.
- Ashley Olenkiewicz '25
 - Ashley Olenkiewicz is a first-year and a prospective School of Public and International Affairs student. She writes opinion columns for The Daily Princetonian and volunteers with El Centro ESL teaching English to adult Spanish speakers in Trenton. She enjoys reading The Atlantic, sipping iced oat chai lattes (with a double shot of espresso), and playing soccer in her free time.
- Hiba Siddiki '25
 - I am in the class of 2025 and am a potential SPIA major.
- Sam Massick '25
 - My name is Sam Massick, and I am in the class of 2025. Major: undecided, possibly economics or classics. About me: I play for the football team and am also active with multiple intramurals and the club soccer team. I enjoy working with people to solve problems, and look forward to working with everyone to help the student body in any way possible!

- Aniket Mukherji '24
 - My name is Aniket Mukherji and I am currently a sophomore majoring in the School of Public and International Affairs.
 - David Piegaro '25
 - David Piegaro is a first-year student from nearby Ewing, NJ. After graduating from Ewing High School he attended Brandeis University for one year and then left to serve 3 years in the US Army as an Intelligence Analyst. He is an active member of Prospect Student Ventures (Princeton's Venture Capital Club), a contributing columnist for The Daily Princetonian's opinion section, and hopes to concentrate in Economics.
 - Sokol Hoxha '25
 - 2025, prospective math or physics major.
 - Umar Aulia
- c. CCA
- Hiba Alba '25
 - Hiba Alba is a potential concentrator in the School of Public & International Affairs from Rutherford, New Jersey. She mentors a local student with Academic Success Today and will also be joining the Undergraduate Student Life Committee as she serves on CCA.
 - Nia Arora '22
 - Nia Arora will graduate this Spring with a concentration in Philosophy. Nia grew up in Princeton, bringing her experiences as both a town member and student to the Campus & Community Affairs Committee. She mentors a local student with Academic Success Today and runs social media and social events for the 2 Dickinson Co-Op.
 - Jonathan Larbi '25
 - Jonathan Larbi is from Pennsylvania, approximately 30 minutes from Princeton. He is a Chemical & Biological Engineering concentrator. On campus, he is a member of Christian Union Nova and the National Society of Black Engineers.
 - Kyle Li '25
 - Kyle Li plans to concentrate in the School of Public and International Affairs. He is from California and serves on the Butler College Council.
 - Alan Plotz '25
 - Alan Plotz is from Boston, Massachusetts and will potentially concentrate in the School of Public and International Affairs. He is a member of the WPRB News & Culture Team and works on the Asylum Project with the Office of Religious Life. Alan was a 2021 Fall Fellow with CCA and serves the Princeton community as a Vote100 Fellow, tutor with the Pace Center, and volunteer with the Trenton Young Scholars Institute.

d. Sustainability Committee

- Abby de Riel '22
 - Abby de Riel is a senior in the English department pursuing a certificate in Dance. On campus, you can find them curled up with a book and cup of tea, doing puzzles, running around with a camera, or lovingly typing away as a copy editor for The Daily Princetonian. They work off-campus in food policy and wellness education, enjoy cooking all things vegan, and are a member of the Forbes Pink House. They are thrilled to join the USG Sustainability Committee and activate the campus as a space for caring for others and our world.
- Adin Kojic '25
 - Hi, I am Adin Kojic, a prospective MAE Student in the Class of '25. Right now my biggest club is Rocketry, where I lead the payload sub-team, tasked with sending an interesting payload up to 30,000 feet in the Spaceport America Cup. The current plan is to send up a glider to record the rocket's decent, which requires a lot of hands-on work and rapid prototyping. This reflects my hands-on attitude from my history of doing home and apartment renovations.
- Joyce Mo '24
 - Joyce Mo, class of 2024, is majoring in chemical and biological engineering with a certificate in sustainable energy. She is also a part of the Princeton Art Museum Student Advisory Board and the New Jersey Student Sustainability Coalition. Outside of classes, Joyce partakes in a lot of art-making, most recently diving into ceramics and sculpture at the First College ceramics studio.
- Joshua Rogers '24
 - Joshua Rogers is a Sophomore pursuing certificates in Environmental Studies, American Studies, and Human Values. He is currently interning for the Office of International Transport and Trade at the Department of Transportation. In addition to his work at the DOT, he is the Secretary of Princeton Mock Trial, a Partner at Tiger Sustainable Investment, and an Art Museum tour guide.
- Ellie Naidler '25

- Hi, I'm Ellie Naider! I'm in the class of 2025, and I'm a prospective SPIA major who would like to pursue a certificate in ENV studies. On campus, I play the flute in Sinfonia, am part of the TigerTrends publicity team, and am the social media chair for the Chabad of Princeton.
 - Andrew Zucker '25
 - My name is Andrew Zucker and I'm in the class of 2025. I am planning on majoring in molecular biology and pursuing certificates in environmental studies and humanistic studies. I am involved Chabad/Center for Jewish Life, Running Club, and Princeton Conservation Society.
 - Megan Santamore '25
 - I'm Megan Santamore, a freshman prospectively majoring in electrical engineering. On campus, I'm a member of the Entrepreneurship Club's Make Ventures Princeton and Web Development sub teams. In my free time I love hiking, playing tennis, and playing the piano.
 - Corey Segal '25
 - My name is Corey Segal and I'm a member of the class of 2025. I am currently a part of the women's club soccer team and the Princeton chapter of Spoon University. I plan on concentrating in architecture and earning a certificate in environmental studies.
 - Colin Freer '24
 - Colin Freer, Sophomore, prospective SPIA major / environmental studies certificate, sustainable and energy certificate, President of the Best Buddies club, Member of Real Estate Club, and Student Athlete wellness leader
 - Gregory Serrano Arevalo '25
 - Gregory Serrano Arevalo 2025 Computer Science Major SIFP and SYMPOH
- e. Social Committee
- Cynthia Nwankwo '25
 - Cynthia Nwankwo is a freshman at Princeton University, hoping to concentrate in SPIA, with interests in a finance or global health certificate. She is currently a Co-chair for Alumni affairs with USG, and is also involved in both Entrepreneurship Club and Women's Rugby. She has great love for the student body and her goal is to ensure that she effectively communicates the needs of her fellow peers as well as improve student life as much as possible.
 - Caroline Schuckel '25

- Caroline Schuckel is a First-Year from Boston Massachusetts, Planning to Concentrate in the School of Public and International Affairs, with a certificate in Economics. She is a member of the open weight rowing team and works in freelance graphic design and consulting in her free time.
- Dusu Sidibay '24
 - Dusu Sidibay (she/her) is a 2nd year student in the SPIA department getting certificates in AAS and Arabic. On campus she's a part of Whig-Clio, Woke Wednesday and is an intern at the Gender and Sexuality Resource Center.

2. Student Groups Recognition Committee Approvals

- Friends of MSF (Médecins Sans Frontières) at Princeton
 - The Friends of MSF at Princeton (Est. 2021) proclaims that it has been founded and is dedicated to the promotion and advocacy of the work of the international non-profit, Médecins Sans Frontières (MSF). MSF is an independent international medical humanitarian organization that delivers emergency aid in more than 70 countries to people affected by armed conflict, epidemics, natural or man-made disasters, or exclusion from healthcare. As a student-led society and Friend of MSF, we strive to educate both the immediate Princeton University community and the communities around us to raise awareness about the important medical and humanitarian work and wide-reaching effects of MSF. We seek to bring MSF's work into these small local communities through health-related education and to act as a uniting force between school chapters of MSF in the Northeast. We will also fundraise for their important international medical work and encourage others to join non-profit, non-governmental medical organizations, such as MSF, post-graduation.
 - hopes to become a Pace Center organization in the future.
- Princeton University Caledonian Society
 - The Princeton University Caledonian Society will provide the campus community with three main services. First, the society will provide the student population with a new, exciting social activity: Ceilidh Dancing. Ceilidh dancing is a social, group dancing activity performed to set moves, which can be learned quickly with practice. It is enjoyed rather than performed, and the emphasis is on having fun and meeting new people. For that reason, Ceilidh dances are held at balls or weddings. They only require an open indoor space such as a gym or hall and a speaker system for the music. If we were able to host a Ceilidh ball, we would be able to provide an alcohol-free alternative to going out on a Thursday, Friday, or Saturday night. Next, the Princeton Caledonian Society will provide a community base for international students from Scotland and the UK more widely. There are currently no active UK affinity groups on campus so there is certainly room for this space. The society would expose people to new aspects of Scottish culture either through Ceilidh dancing or through social events on important dates in the Scottish calendar such as Burns night and St Andrew's day. As outlined above, the society would be able to highlight Princeton's Scottish history. Anyone on campus would be welcome to become a member or participate in our events.

- College Association for the Research of Principles (CARP) - Princeton
 - The Collegiate Association for the Research of Principles herein referred to as CARP, proclaims that it has been founded with the purpose of creating an environment that enables Princeton students to grow into global leaders who live in the service of the nation and the world through the active study and application of Unification Principles.
 - Create well-rounded, responsible, loving global leaders by: Facilitating the intentional study and application of Unification Principles; Providing character education that cultivates hearts, as a supplement to their academic education which grows minds; Offering training programs for the development of leadership skills; Creating a safe and welcoming environment for students of all backgrounds to share and nurture their faith; Fostering, encouraging and creating a culture of living for the sake of others by promoting the values of interdependence and mutual prosperity; Empowering students to be able to create true and lasting relationships in their lives; Providing opportunities for members to positively contribute to society by participating in community service projects; Providing networking opportunities for students by linking them with CARP members and alumni in other chapters across the country and world.
 - Plans to fall under Office of Religious Life.
- First Generation Investors
 - Objectives: To create a community of students dedicated to helping and supporting underserved students, teach an 8-week course in order to receive actual money to make their own investments, and participate in finance competitions and events across the nation run by First Generation Investors
 - Strong recommendation by SGRC to eventually fall under Pace Center to allow for travel and materials funding.
- Princeton Mycology Society
 - The Princeton Mycology Society proclaims that it has been founded and is dedicated to promote and encourage, amongst its members: The proliferation of mycological studies and discussion via both hands-on fieldwork with experts as well as engagement with scientific research and documentation of various mushroom species; The practice of mushroom identification with aims of acquiring and improving practical knowledge of the mushrooms in the surrounding ecosystem while developing and deepening our collective's understanding of the rich and vast diversity of mushrooms grown and foraged in Pennsylvania; Utilizing mushrooms for medicinal and culinary purposes and experimentation in support of understanding the incredible benefits of incorporating different mushrooms into food; Crafting mushroom-based meals and advocating for the use of mushrooms as meat replacements in dining halls and in traditionally meat-based recipes.

- Women In Medicine
 - This student organization shall be named the Women in Medicine Club and will utilize the acronym WIM interchangeably. This organization shall exist for the following purposes: To foster an inclusive, supportive community for female-identifying pre-health students to help and inspire each other; To provide educational and enrichment opportunities for members to learn more about the experiences of women in medicine and gain hands-on experience to develop critical skills for their future careers; To facilitate mentorship between upperclassmen and underclassmen undergraduates interested in health-related careers; To bring awareness to and tackle gender disparities in health professions; To provide opportunities to serve the community, particularly by inspiring the next generation of health professionals in local schools.
- Readers Who Invest
 - The Readers Who Invest Club proclaims that it has been founded and is dedicated to promote and encourage, amongst its members, an open and inclusive environment that is focused on the pursuit of gaining investment knowledge by learning from the wisdom of experts and professionals in the industry. This club strives to read, share and discuss thoughts about different investment philosophies and styles. More broadly, however, this club aims to create a long-lasting network of students who share similar passions and interests. Not only will this group allow like-minded students to exchange thoughts about money markets and concepts during their times at Princeton, but it will allow this process to continue for years to come.